Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 28 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mild, dry for many but rain over the hills.

Today:
Staying very mild and fairly breezy. Often cloudy, though some bright or sunny spells likely in the east. Widely dry, but some rain arriving into the Peak District and perhaps the north by early evening. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy and mild with further rain in the west and north, perhaps edging slowly eastwards affecting all parts by dawn. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Friday:
Cloudy with long periods of rain through the morning, slowly becoming drier and perhaps brighter from the west during the afternoon with most parts dry and clear by evening. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Conditions remaining changeable and windy at times. Further spells of rain, which will be heavy at times, especially on Sunday. Saturday night will be mainly dry. Coastal gales on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.